

A large, vertically oriented oval shape that serves as a container for text. It contains 20 horizontal lines for writing, with a single line at the top and bottom that are slightly shorter than the others, creating a header and footer area within the oval.

